CHANCE FOR ANY ONE NOW TO WIN A TRIP

Herald's Extra Trip to Be Competed for with Equal Chances by Every Candidate in the Race.
Contest Closes 10 p. m. Dec. 16.

Following are the conditions under which the extra trip in The Herald's contest will be awarded, December 16, the close of the race:

The competition for the extra trip will be among those candidates remaining after the three round-robin trials, the double European trip, and the remaining regular district trips have been awarded, and will be given to the candidate who makes the largest gain in votes between November 15, at 10 p. m., and December 15, at 10 p. m., the close of the contest.

This means that the candidate who does not win one of the regular trips, but who makes the large-est gain among the remaining, will be awarded the extra trip.

In The Herald's Mediterranean contest, there are ten trips to be awarded on December 15. There are three trips to Europe, and seven to Europe, France, and the Mediterranean countries.

As originally announced, the three trips around the world and seven trips to Europe will be awarded to the candidate in each district securing the highest number of votes will be awarded a trip. Of the ten trips there will be four grand prizes. These will be two trips to Europe, one to Europe and a trip around the world to three continents. These four grand prizes will fall to the four highest district winners—that is, the contestants securing the highest number of votes of all the winners, has his or her choice of either two trips to Europe or a trip around the world. If he or she chooses the two trips to Europe, the next three highest district vote winners will be awarded the three trips around the world, but if the grand leader prefers a trip around the world to two trips to Europe, the second highest district vote winner will have the choice of two trips to Europe or one around the world. In other words, the two trips to Europe to one winner and the three trips around the world to three winners will be distributed among the four highest winners, the choice being given to the highest winner, on down.

The other district winners will be awarded trips to Europe.

To the candidate among those remaining after the above nine trips have been awarded, who has made the highest gain in votes during the three weeks' period of November 15 to December 15, will be given a trip to the Mediterranean.

By this arrangement every candidate who has been energetic and picked up a large number of votes, has first the original chance to win out in their own district.

The leader in your district is too strong for you and you lose the district trip, you still have one more chance of winning the extra trip awarded to the highest gainer.

To those candidates who have not exerted themselves as much as others, and whose scores are low, now is the opportunity for winning a Mediterranean trip for three weeks' effort. You only compete with the candidates left after the first winners have been awarded trips.

The assignment of the extra trip has been arranged to give the ones who have worked the hardest and who have correspondingly lower scores, a chance to win a trip by competing against each other for the balance of the time the contest runs.

This leaves a competition between those remaining to see who can make the large-est gain between Saturday, November 25 at 10 p. m., and 10 p. m., December 15.
Any one who has any ambition and hustle can win a valuable trip by the amount of work expended these three weeks of the race.

THE FOOT

—the most used member of the body—causes more pain and suffering than any other member.

Since 1854 Doctors, Surgeons, Scientists, Chiropractors, Foot and Shoe Manufacturers have tried to find a way to cure these troubles without success. At 902 G Street there is a place, the only one of its kind in the world, where they absolutely make a cure of all troubles of the foot, of troubles that are the cause of all troubles, by a purely MECHANICAL, PAINLESS treatment. The most economical place in the world to be treated. WE POSITIVELY CURE.

EIGHTY-ONE YEARS OF WOMAN'S LIFE TO BE HONORED

Tribute Is Planned to Mrs.
Belva Ann Lockwood.

HAS HAD NOTABLE LIFE

The career of Mrs. Belva Ann Lockwood, who celebrated on the 24th of last October her eighty-first birthday, is to be honored by a public demonstration arranged by the women of Washington. Mrs. Lockwood was the first woman to be admitted to practice before the Supreme Court of the United States, has been active in efforts to secure equal rights for men and women, and has been one of the foremost advocates of peace and arbitration, having been three times a delegate to sessions of the Universal Peace Union.

WILL HOLD MEETING TO-DAY.

The movement was inaugurated by a committee of ladies, who have issued invitations for a meeting to be held at 4 o'clock this afternoon at "Eagle Lodge," the home of Mrs. John A. Logan, at the corner of Thirteenth and Clifton streets northwest. At this meeting, which will also be a reception, the guests will be received by Mrs. A. L. Barber, Mrs.
Thomas H. Anderson, Mrs. Charles P. Granfield, Mrs. Sarah D. La Fetra, Mrs. E. D. Crumacker, Miss Elizabeth Pierce, Miss Edith Moore, and others.
It is expected that the details of the tribute to be tendered will be fully decided upon.

Representative Committee.

The committee which has inaugurated the affair is representative of every phase of women's work. It includes, among others, Mrs. John O. Harbison, of the Universal Peace Union; Miss Minnie F.
Mickey, D. A. R.; Miss Ellen R. Foster, Woman's National Press Association; Mrs. Sarah Doane La Fetra, Mrs. Clinton R. Smith, and Mrs. Emma Sanford Shelton, Woman's Christian Temperance Union; Mrs. Edith Kingman Kern, American Penwomen's League; Mrs. Carrie B.
Kent, Mrs. Harvey W. Wiley, and Mrs.
C. W. MacNaughton, State Educational Suffrage Association; Mrs. D. L. Chipman and Miss Edith R. Mosher, American Woman's League; Mrs. John A. Logan, Professional League, and Mrs. Josephine Arnold Rich, Federation of Women's Clubs.

Has Had Notable Career.

Mrs. Lockwood was born in Royalton, New Hampshire, on October 24, 1830. Her first marriage occurred when she was eighteen years old, and when her husband died in 1852, she became a prominent educator, being a professor of higher mathematics, logic, rhetoric, and botany. She came to this city at the close of the civil war and began the study of law. She graduated in 1873 from the National University Law School, having in the meantime married Rev.
Isaac Lockwood, a Baptist minister.
She was admitted to the bar of the supreme court of the District, and at once entered upon the active practice of her profession.

In 1875 she applied for admission to the court of claims, but was refused on the ground that she was a woman and that she was a married woman. She was refused a second time, but she was not a bitter one, but short, sharp, and decisive. In 1878 Mrs. Lockwood's admission to the bar of the United States supreme court was moved, but was refused on the ground that there were no English precedents for the admission of women to the bar.

Secured Act of Congress.

It was in vain that she logically pleaded that Queens Eleanor and Elizabeth had both been supreme chancellors of the realm, and that at the assizes of Assize, Ann, Countess of Pembroke, sat with the judges on the bench. Nothing daunted, she drafted a bill admitting women to the bar of the Supreme Court, secured its introduction in both Houses of Congress, and after three years' effort aroused enough influence and public sentiment to secure its passage in January, 1875. On March 2 of that year Mrs.
Lockwood was admitted to the bar of that august tribunal, the first woman in the world on whom the honor was conferred.

Mrs. Lockwood has made several trips abroad as a representative to peace conferences, and upon one occasion in Paris read an able paper in French upon international arbitration. She was also instrumental in securing the enactment of a law giving women in government employ equal pay with men.

WILL BE HONORED
BY DISTRICT WOMEN

MRS. BELVA A. LOCKWOOD.

UPSHUR TESTIFIED
IN DIVORCE CASE

Rear Admiral Told of Son-in-law's Conduct.

Following the granting of a divorce by Chief Justice C. J. Taft, Mrs. Kate Conover Moorhead from Frank T. Moorhead, a former wealthy iron manufacturer of Pittsburgh, it became known yesterday that Mrs. Moorhead's father, Admiral John Henry Uphur, U. S. N., retired, appeared as a witness in the suit which was filed June 28 last and gave sensational testimony. Admiral Upshur, who is eighty-eight years of age and a member of Washington's exclusive social set, was present at the siege of Vera Cruz, served with Perry in opening Japan to commerce, took a prominent part in the naval battles of the civil war and retired in May, 1885, on his own application after forty-four years of distinguished service.

His son-in-law went on a drunken carousal while visiting London with his bride, and that he stayed at the club almost every night and came home drunk, and that the coachman generally had to bring him into the house was part of the sworn testimony of Admiral Uphur.

Told of His Conduct.

He testified that his son-in-law's English valet told Mrs. Moorhead of the conduct of her husband while in Pittsburgh, where his actions were unbecomingly and that she stated that Moorhead never got up before 5 o'clock in the afternoon, and that he was to be present without fail, and that after that he took a bath and went out, not to return until the next morning.

Witness testified he realized that it was impossible for his daughter to live with her husband; "that it was killing her," Admiral Uphur said he made an effort in Pittsburgh to get his son-in-law to reform and return home, but he alleged the case was absolutely hopeless; that he would sober up for a few days, only to drop back into his old habits of disipation. It is asserted that Moorhead did not deny the charge of misconduct when confronted.

Mrs. Moorhead separated from her husband in 1885, according to the testimony of her father, who personally informed his son-in-law that settlement would have to be made for the support of his daughter and her son, and he wished to subject himself to divorce proceedings and the notoriety connected therewith. Moorhead, as alleged by Admiral Uphur, was willing to make a settlement, admitting that his wife was right.

Made $20,000 Settlement.

He gave her $20,000, which she returned to him, signing a release after he had begged her to do so, saying he needed the money in his business, and promising—she would return it to her in a few months, which, however, the admiral said, she refused to do, and has not done so to this day.

Mrs. Moorhead said that she and her husband lived together until December 2, 1890, when, owing to differences arising between them and his dissipated habits, she was compelled to separate from him. They were married at the residence of Admiral Uphur in Brooklyn, where he was in charge of the navy yard, February 5, 1882, according to the Episcopal rite. They have a son, J. Upshur Moorhead, now twenty-six years old, who has resided with his mother until within a year ago, when he was married to Miss Lillian Chew, daughter of John C. Chew, of this city. Mrs.
Moorhead resides at 1822 Connecticut avenue.
